In addition to providing high-quality legal advice and representation, I am committed to building strong working relationships with each of my clients.

Christine M. (O'Brien) Gordon joined Timoney Knox as an associate in May 2011. She is a member of Timoney Knox's School and Special Education Law group and Commercial and Civil Litigation group, and focuses her practice on special education law, civil rights litigation and employment law. She counsels clients on issues arising under various state and federal laws and regulations, including the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Ms. Gordon earned her law degree from Villanova University in 2008. While in law school, she was selected to write for the Villanova Environmental Law Journal and was a board member of Phi Delta Phi, which is a national legal fraternity focused on ethics within the legal profession. She also volunteered her time providing pro bono legal work through various programs offered through the law school.

Ms. Gordon received her undergraduate degree in psychology from Emory University in 2005. While attending Emory, she was a two-year captain of the nationally-ranked varsity softball team and competed twice in the NCAA College World Series. She was on the Dean's List and was selected by the faculty for academic recognition in the Psi Chi National Honor Society, the Mortar Board Senior National Honor Society and Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

She is a member of the Pennsylvania and Montgomery County Bar Associations and was recently selected to participate in the Montgomery County Bar Association's 2016 Leadership Academy. She is a former Trustee on the Board of Trustees for Northern Children's Services and previously served on the Board of Directors for the York Hospital Auxiliary. A Bucks County native and graduate of Villa Joseph Marie High School, she currently resides with her husband in Ivyland, Pennsylvania.
